733 Students Enroll This Week As Term Starts

New Rock Building To Start Soon for Negro School

Supt. Gordon R. Bennett submits the following interesting information about Hamlin's Public Schools:

The Hamlin Public Schools began the 1940-41 term with enrollment Thursday, September 5, and Friday, September 6 of 733 students. 412 of these were in the elementary school in classes as follows: 48 in the first year; 57 in the second year 60 in the third grade; 53 in the fourth grade; 68 in the fifth grade; 52 in the sixth grade, and 74 in the seventh grade.

321 students were enrolled in High school distributed as follows: 71 in the eighth grade; 96 in the ninth grade; 71 in the tenth grade and 81 in the eleventh grade. Two post graduates were enrolled.

The work in both buildings began on Monday morning, September 9, with usual precision. Regular students dropped into regular schedules while the principal worked on the conflicts of the irregulars.

The school faculty is now complete with one exception. The elementary school is still in need of a coach. Mr. J. E. McCaleb who was elected to that position, served two days during registration and then left for Caddo to assume the duties of head coach at a considerable increase in salary. At present Mr. C. J. Adkins is substituting until a coach may be located.

Special organizations have begun to function. The Pep squad has organized and elected Miss Murphree as their sponsor. The Band has been organized for a month and is well under way. The football team is getting in fine shape and will meet their first test with Lueders, Friday, September 13. The chorus and glee clubs of both schools are beginning to take shape.

The two schools held their first assemblies on Wednesday with Dr. Bickley, visiting Methodist revivalist, speaking to the two student bodies.

The W. P. A. lunch room will not be opened until after October 1st. The usual N. Y. A. program will be carried on by the school with eight or ten needy pupils being employed.

The fine co-operative spirit as manifested by the teachers in the opening work of school plus the enthusiasm of the two student bodies forecast a pleasant and successful school year.

SEATING CAPACITY IN PIPERS FIELD INCREASED

The Hamlin school project for increasing the seating capacity in the Pipers Field is about complete. The W. P. A. superintendent, Horace Henry, reports that when Friday night comes the work will be finished and ready to submit to the board.

L. F. COZZENS HOME

BURNED FRIDAY NIGHT

The L. F. Cozzens home southwest of Boyd Chapel burned about 8:30 last Friday night. No one was at home and everything was lost. The origin of the fire is not known unless it started from a wood stove.

EXPRESS APPRECIATION

We wish to thank our many friends and each individual and pray God's blessing on each one who had a part in helping us in the sad hour when our house and everything we had burned last Friday evening.

The new public address system presented by the Senior Class of last year will be installed at the park for use during the games this fall.

A press box will be constructed on the west side of the field above the bleachers. The announcer, a representative from the local news paper and one visiting representative will be allowed to occupy this stand. From this high advantageous point the announcer can give you a good running account of the game.

GROUNDS SECURED

Three lots, No. 3, 4, 5, Block 38, H. T. S. Addition, have been purchased from H. A. Stacey for the purpose of erecting a negro school building.

This work will be a W. P. A. project and has been approved in Washington. It is now undergoing an engineering review in San Antonio and a work order is expected any day now to begin.

Rocks are being hauled to these lots for this construction work. It is expected that authorization for this work will be received soon after the present work at the park is completed.

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Harris, who live on the B. A. McKinney Estate southwest of Hamlin eight miles, are moving this week to McKinney lands of 1,150 acres in Fannin Co., five miles from Bonham. Mr. Harris has managed the McKinney lands near Hamlin for about 13 years under the ownership of the late Walter J. Lee till McKinney purchased three years ago. Harris is not only a good farmer but a good manager and tops as a citizen.

Mrs. Eula Lee DuBois and little daughter, Bonna Lee of Beaumont, Texas, came on Friday to attend to business matters and to see old friends. It had been sixteen years since she had visited in Hamlin. Mrs. DuBois was formerly Miss Eula Tansey, a daughter of a pioneer family of Hamlin.

BAPTIST CHURCH

The services last Sunday were unusual. We had 313 in Sunday School, and four additions to the church. One came upon profession of faith. We are still planning to make September high attendance month of the year.

We have a treat for next Sunday morning. Rev. E. C. Hecksher, who is to go as a missionary to Greenland, will speak. He has a marvelous story to tell, and you will want to hear him.

There will be no evening services Sunday. We are glad to dismiss for the Methodist revival, and we urge all of our members to attend the revival that night and throughout the week. We will have our training unions, however, and we urge you to be present for them.

H. E. EAST, Pastor

METHODIST CHURCH

Rev. John W. Hendrix, Pastor

At a teachers' meeting the other night, it was decided to expect two hundred (200) next Sunday at Sunday School. Our records show we have more than that number who have at one time or another come to Church School. This is simply an effort to summons them back to this hour of worship and study. This doesn't in any wise require any pupil or teacher to solicit any one who attends anywhere else. But you could come, you have before, you could come next Sunday and boost our number, and that is the very least thing of it—you would receive the benefit of such a period of study.

Dr. C. A. Bickley will be in the pulpit both morning and evening. All of us, preacher, pastor, people, most cordially invite you to be present. We have invited every one to come.

We have been told by a number of people that the Baptist intend to be with us Sunday evening, and this is to bear them a big welcome.

Hours of services, 10 A. M. every morning. Leagues and Young People 7:30 each evening. Public worship, 8:00 every evening.

Come and be with us.

Dr. Joe W. McCrary Reported Very Ill In Santa Fe, New Mex.

Information reached Hamlin last Saturday that Dr. Joe W. McCrary, prominent dentist of Hamlin, was seriously ill of some form of heart trouble in Santa Fe, New Mexico.

Dr. Joe and his family had gone on their vacation to that state and to visit relatives, and his condition became very serious, according to reports, on Friday. His father, Dr. L. P. McCrary, a specialist of long standing here, was also on an outing through Colorado and Nevada, and it was with difficulty that Hamlin friends located him, but he reached Dr. Joe Sunday night, and Dr. Joe's mother joined them as soon as possible.

A letter from Dr. L. P. McCrary to friends mailed Monday stated that Dr. Joe was doing as well as could be expected under the circumstances.

Both of these men have been under great strain since their offices were damaged by fire several weeks ago, and it would seem that the high altitudes of their trips was not the kind of rest needed. Dr. L. P. also has been in ill health and besides had some slight car trouble on the trip.

A host of Hamlin friends will anxiously want to learn that Dr. Joe is to get well; however, his father says it will be several weeks before Joe can come home.

Mrs. Bickley Leader Of Young People

The Hamlin community as a whole has a very high privilege in hearing Dr. C. A. Bickley, who is this week conducting a revival meeting at the Methodist church. Also the young people of the whole community have a high privilege in hearing Mrs. Bickley each evening at 7:30 in the Young People's hour.

These two servants of the Lord are worthy of your careful consideration. In the first place they are worthy examples of the faith they proclaim; they not only proclaim the Gospel of our Lord but they live it. People everywhere believe in them—in their Christian characters.

Then each in their own place are able in their deliverance and vital in their approach. Each is straightforward and devoid of any cant or showmanship. They really count on the vitality of their messages to interest the people and draw a crowd. After all this is all that has abiding worth.

Rev. Bickley has had a great career in the church. For a number of seasons he has been presiding elder most effectively and has in other seasons been pastor of some of the leading churches of Texas. His manner of preaching, his genuine sincerity always attracts attention.

He is now preaching every morning at 10 and every evening at 8:00 o'clock at the Methodist church. You will be very greatly profited by attending these services. It matters not of what church or no church, each alike is invited, even urged to attend. It is yours for the attending.

In every way Bro. Bickley has always been an attractive speaker and leader of men. This is so essential to our community.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Burk and children left Wednesday of last week for Rotan to make their home where Mr. Burk is employed in a grocery store. For a number of years, Mr. and Mrs. Burk have made their home in Hamlin where he has been manager of the Safeway Store, and in every way, they have proved themselves valuable and progressive citizens. Both have been active in church and club work.

Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Stone and daughter, Norma, returned the last of August from a three weeks vacation in Mexico, Utah, Colorado and Los Angeles, California. They report a very interesting and pleasant trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Campbell spent the week end in De Leon visiting Mrs. Campbell's mother.

Terrell's Grocery Opens In Beautiful New Store

J. B. Terrell Grocery Has Modern Dress After The Fire

Could those of Hamlin who watched the big fire of a few weeks ago eat away business after business, have imagined what would, almost like magic, take its place, there would have been quite a different feeling.

This Friday morning one of those burned buildings again throws open its doors for the public to enter, and on entering, you will find a welcome of unusual beauty and modernity.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Terrell are the recipients of more than just hearty congratulations from a host of Hamlin friends, who are happy to see a good business spring back bigger, better, and more beautiful than ever before. A new stock of well assorted and artistically arranged groceries; new walls, ceilings, fixtures, lights, and a dozen modern features not present before the fire.

The most noticeable thing one will observe on entering are the modern "Day-light Lights," fluorescent, close against the celo-tex ceiling in such a manner that on dark days and at night, one feels as though he were in the natural light.

If it should be cold, one will feel the welcome warmth of the automatic heater far back on the ceiling, which guarantees even, sufficient heat at all times. If it should be hot, one's face will feel the cool, refreshing breeze of washed air from the newest style of the "Johnson Air Conditioners" (a feature not now installed, but will be soon).

Mr. Terrell has been thoughtful of his customers in arranging his fixtures so the task of selecting foods will be as easy and handy as possible. Just a little bending, not much reaching, and no "toe stumping and stumbling." The floor space is ample for crowds, and there will be no frowning from one trying to see goods and prices.

Back in the Market Department will be seen the ever happy countenance of Tom Neely, the famous meat handling man. Tom likes everything so much that he might forget to wait upon you while he is admiring all the new-fangled helps about the store and especially his market department.

Well, to say the least of it, all Hamlin is proud to see the rebuilding, and congratulations are due Ira Clements, owner of the building, as well as to Mr. Terrell.

Mr. and Mrs. Landon Davis, and son, Lanny, and daughter, Miss Phylla, returned Saturday from Washington, D. C., where Mr. Davis had been employed during the summer in the Agriculture Department. Mrs. Davis and children have been visiting in Washington for the past month.

L. B. Fowler, of Wildorado, was here last week to visit his brother, Dr. P. A. Fowler and family.

Arranging Meeting

Arrangements have been completed to present a feature of unusual interest at the annual meeting of the Hamlin National Farm Loan Association to be held in Anson, Texas September 17th.

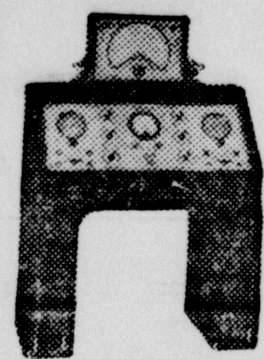

A. C. Williams, President of the Federal Land Bank, will present motion pictures in natural colors accompanied by a talk on the manners and customs in rural Europe, at the meeting, according to an announcement by B. L. Jones, Secretary-Treasurer of the Association.

The pictures were made by Mr. Williams while on a trip to England, Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Holland and Germany last summer shortly before the outbreak of hostilities. The trip was made with a group of honor students from Texas A. & M. College whose principal purpose was to study the cotton industry in all its phases.

The pictures give a general idea of the farming methods in the Old World and show how the rural sections of the countries visited looked before the bombers came. There are also a number of scenes made in cities that have figured in the headlines in recent months, Mr. Jones said.

During the past nine months, Mr. Williams has shown this film to thousands of people in all parts of Texas.

Mr. Jones is a former Hamlin citizen, a banker for several years, announces that they have about 500

100 Persons Attended Farm and Soil Project

One hundred people attended some part of the FSA Field Day Tour, Friday, August 16. They visited the Warren T. Hilliard farm, with 4 in family. The excellent rain fall on Thursday had set in grand operation his system of syrup pan terraces and the ground tank was full. "We used to have to spend 1-2 day a week hauling water, or 26 days a year at $1.25 a day, $32.00 per year," stated Mrs. Hilliard. Water for irrigation has made two frame gardens and 12 tub gardens and 35 feet by 50 feet garden possible. She has canned 575 quarts of fruits and vegetables. Mr. Hilliard built his terraces himself with his tractor and a small terracer for a cost of $23.10 or 7 barrels of gas.

In 1938, before they had water on the farm, it cost $8.75 in labor for water to be hauled to the one silo built. This year, 2 trench silos have been filled with 56 tons of feed by the family without hired labor. A ground tank filtering system, windmill, storage tank, shower, water in house, garden and yard, stock tank constitute the water facility.

The Tourers stopped at Leonard H. Culwell's to see their full tank of water and vegetables that are being grown as a result of water.

Lunch was served at the Tenant Purchase farm of W. B. Agnew. "Land ownership by the man who works the soil makes for better rural communities." There are eight Tenant Purchase farms in Jones County. Under this program, worthy tenants are loaned money over a period of 40 years, to buy "family sized" farms and to make necessary improvements. All the improvements on the Agnew farm have been built since January 1, 1940. An excellent ventilated pantry was inspected by the group, as well as the house and other buildings.

The group went to the Willie C. McCoy farm in Hodges community, 7 in family, where they saw progress being made under the Standard Type Loan. "A live-at-home program was demonstrated here, which bears out the FSA aims of: 1. Food for family 12 months. 2. Feed for livestock 12-24 months. 3. Pay all loans and debts. They had 812 quarts of food on cellar shelves and are to fill a trench silo. They are paying living expenses from sale of produce.

ANOTHER DRY HOLE?

In the constant search for new oil reserves in Texas, even the dry holes benefit the communities in which they are drilled.

They mean employment and wages for Texas labor, lease money for Texas farmers and ranchers and many other expenditures which benefit all lines of business.

2,300 dry holes were drilled in Texas last year at a cost of nearly 60 million dollars.

Since oil was discovered in Texas, 52,000 dry holes have been drilled in all sections of the State at an expense of more than one billion dollars.

This billion dollar research has already resulted in the discovery in Texas of over half of all the known petroleum reserves of the Nation. The creation of this wealth will benefit Texas citizens for generations to come.

the community always gains.This Advertisement Paid for by Various Units of the Industry and Sponsored by

Welcome To Our New Store

Fisherman's Luck

By J. W. Hendrix

EXPLANATION: The above story by our friend Rev. Hendrix was "penned" several weeks ago while the pastor and his wife were on their vacation. It finds a place only this week; however, it has been "resting" in time the past weeks:

It isn't the intentions of this story to describe just what this term meant in the old days! But really means something else.

My experience in fishing hasn't been the very best. In fact, it broke my morale. I once fished with a close friend in the Redfoot Lake in West Tennessee, in the same boat, and he pulled out twelve while I snaked out two. I fished with some real fishermen in the Big Cow Skin River, in Southwest Missouri, four in our party, and the most unlucky caught forty or more, second best, fifty or more, and the prize winner sixty or more while I caught one about noon the second day—poor, little cat fish, not big enough to keep. With great hopes, with wise instructions, I had fitted out with the very best equipment. I made a little talk to this cat fish and with it I vowed a vow which to this good day I have kept religiously. I don't fish!

Though I always come to the mountains with some crack fishermen, and there seems to be nothing like that passion in the human records. I am glad sometimes I have no such fever; for it has more hopes and the deepest discouragements of anything I know. We arrived yesterday—13th—and drove up on Main Street, whereupon the old talk began: "The fish were striking till threedays ago; but nobody's catchin' now." "You know it's the wrong time of the moon." "The water is too clear." "The water is too low." "The water is too muddy." "The freshit came down." Some fellow went up on some other river, some ten miles away. You go so many miles by car—or by horse from here by horse from there, and then climb so many feet beyond where a horse can climb. Then use a certain kind of fly; then proceeds a long list of names of flies. Then they get out their flies, books, boxes and rolls and they call off one to the other. By that time the man on the bleachers gets amused and if his control isn't very good he "laffs".

But I soundly enjoy all of this coming. For example, it is always something different from home. And of all, this mountain village stands alone. Most of these places are some new places "by the bend of the river," without history, very little past and not a great present. But this little city, Lake City, Colo., has history, by word of mouth, by buildings, by long streets shaded by tall mountain cottonwood, it bears its silent testimony everywhere you gaze. We saw a sign, "For Rent," and we went in. An old lady met us, just the old lady you would expect when once you were in the house; she fitted the furniture and the furniture fitted her. From the front porch to inside the house you traveled backward thirty-five years or more—a most interesting experience indeed—no electric lights, a water pump beside the back porch; I sit now in a chair which was swanky in the young womanhood of this lady; now would bring a fancy price in any antique shoppe; bowls and pitchers in each room and slop buckets everywhere, by day and by night; no bath, no phone, no paper, no radio. You see, years ago, how many I don't know, some ten or fifteen thousand people lived here, people who rode in by train and traveled to their mines in the mountains by burro, and when they made short social visits they rented a horse from the livery stable—the stables, old and falling into decay, still stand on what was then prominent corners.

Stories abound of those days, stories of horrible reality. This was the mecca for many adventurers, prospectors and mine vendors, money lenders and stock brokers, prodigals and human parasites, men who fed fat on human credulity of stories of vast fortunes just ahead, men who prospered by the sale of human frailties, these, victim and victors, dupes and dupers, all rolled into one crowd elbowed each other on the same Main Street. The story would not be complete if I didn't tell also that here and there among these ancient ruins stand churches with their spires pointing Heavenward, now mildewed, old and delapidated. At the end of this strange Main Street, on a hillside which slopes gently toward the morning sun, lies a cemetery, with a crumbling fence and many leaning and fallen grave markers, which reminds us that all of this, the major part of it, leadeth but to the grave.

But it might be more interesting, certainly more refreshing, to learn what man has done, his course, patry smear, to what God has done in these parts. Mile after mile one winds along ridges, speeds through mountain meadows, along fretful streams, climbs along mountain-sides and wheels around hairpin curves, rising to tremendous altitudes; and then eases down long, steep inclines, only to climb again. The scenery is far beyond mortal description, streams and water falls of bewildering beauty, lofty peaks, low on their sides are pines, dark green variegated and interspersed with asp, a light green, and every once and a while rocky crags protrude to add more variety, and then far away the peak leads away to dizzy heights, leaving trees; stretch away to meet the sun, and to be crowned with eternal, immaculate snow. As we came over Slum Gullion Pass, we paused and all disembarked, a pass which approaches close to 12,000 feet in altitude. Reaching afar were peaks slightly higher than we, and below us unfolded a canyon walled in on either side were ridges of intriguing beauty, falling down to a stream, and rising into numerous cliffs, and at the farther end were peaks and among these was one peak which stands alone in gripping grandeur, major in color was brick and then blended in all pastel colors, lighted and emerged into one vast panorama by God's great artist, the sun.

On yesterday, the 15th, the men of our party went up on a big lake, deep and blue, in the heart of the highest mountains. We rented a boat and my brother had a motor. The purpose of our trip, to the fishermen, was to troll. I went long to encourage them and enjoy the trip and the scenery. I don't really think any one can see such as we saw and ever be the same any more.

There must always be that feeling of earthly glory and that inner feeling of happiness. Yes, such handiwork speaks day unto day and at night showeth knowledge. It must really do something deep and abiding for those who behold its glory! (My Dear Bowen: I fear I won't be able to do much in correcting this manuscript, certainly I won't be able to recopy it after correcting any part. Now, several are waiting for me to go on a trip. This is just snatched from what others think I owe them in a vacation. I will include my church announcements for Sunday, 25th. This machine hasn't helped my technique much. It handles this big paper poorly, slips, etc. It is new to me and that hasn't helped much either. —John)

One-Fourth of Texas Is Under Oil Lease

More than one-fourth of Texas is now under lease for oil and gas development, a statewide survey just completed by the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association shows.

Out of a total area of 169,130,716 acres in Texas, Texas oilmen have under lease 45,402,656 acres. The figures were compiled from county tax records, company reports and ownership maps of individual counties.

Lease and royalty payments on this acreage to Texas farmers and ranchers totalled over $125,000,000 in 1939, the association reported. This extra cash income for Texas farmers and stockmen represented an additional 27 cents from the oilmen for each dollar of cash income, exclusive of Government benefit payments. Including such payments, it represented 22 cents additional for each dollar of cash agricultural income in Texas last year.

In total return to the State, however, petroleum far exceeded all agricultural products. Expenditures of the oil and gas industry in Texas in 1939 were approximately $750,000,000, or nearly $200,000,000 more than the $567,596,000 Texas farm and ranch income from all crops, livestock, and Government benefits. Well over one-third of petroleum's total expenditures go to Texas workers who receive $272,000,000 a year in wages and salaries.

All but three counties out of the State's 254 now have acreage leased for oil and gas exploration or production. The exceptions are Rockwall, Mason and Llano.

The Greatest Move Under New Deal

Farms bought by Texans tenants with Farm Security Administration loans will be limited in value to as low as $1,300 in some counties this year, instead of running to $4,000 and $5,000 as during the previous three years of operation.

Robert C. Cross, FSA's supervisor for Jones County, made known today that the amendment to the Bankhead-Jones Farm Tenant Act, passed recently under the sponsorship of Congressman Tarver of Ga., will force a drastic revision in size of farms purchased, due to the provision that "no loan shall be made to purchase a farm of greater value than the average farm unit of thirty acres or more in the county."

Under this restriction, 486 farms would have been barred, out of 992 bought in Texas during the previous three years of the program. East Texas will be principally affected. Under the new provision, East Texas farms will be limited to $1,300 in some counties, with the most liberal price in any East Texas county approximately $4,000. In West Texas the regulation will permit purchases of $6,000 to $10,000, while in Central, North and South Texas the limits will be between $4,000 and $8,000.

FSA has designated 158 counties in Texas in which 758 loans were to have been made this year for a total of $4,808,757. "It may be impossible for us to approve loans in certain counties originally designated because the limit on size of farms prevents the working out of a sound plan of operation," Mr. Cross said. "So far there have been practically no delinquencies, and we hope that under the new restriction the same sort of record will be maintained and the government's investment safeguarded."

He said that it will be necessary for the counties in which the smaller limits are placed to show that farms to be purchased will permit repayment of the loan out of the crops and livestock which they produce. Loans are made for 100 per cent of the farm value, run for 40 years with interest at three per cent.

Way "Build-up" Helps Will Interest Women

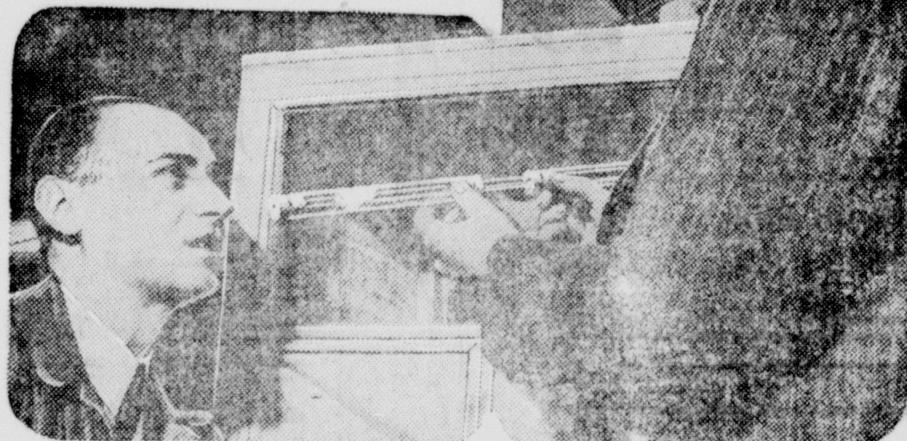

The cause of a woman's periodic suffering from headache, irritability, cramp-like pain, may be functional dysmenorrhea due to malnutrition, a condition that is often helped by CARDUI.

Principal way CARDUI helps is by stimulating appetite and the flow of gastric juices. Thus it may aid digestion; help build up a woman's strength, energy and nerve-force; so increase physical resistance to periodic discomfort.

It also helps reduce periodic distress for many who take it a few days before and during "the time." Your confidence in CARDUI is invited by its 50 years of popularity.

Hungry Mosquito's 'Horsepower' Latest Marvel of Insect World

Philip Granett (left), hero of 300,000 mosquito bites, and Dr. Willem Rudolfs, bio-chemist at Rutgers University, studying the reactions of a mosquito in a test tube.

HUNGRY mosquitoes on the hunt for someone to bite have many thousands of times the proportionate strength of a human being.

That is the conclusion of scientists at Rutgers University, New Brunswick, N. J., who have been studying mosquitoes for five years and have developed a lotion that keeps them from biting and enables people to escape insect annoyance.

In the course of their research the university staff discovered that mosquitoes will buck winds up to eight miles an hour in their efforts to reach a source of carbon dioxide that they detect on the air. Considering the difference in size between a man and a mosquito, the scientists point out that if a man had the relative strength of a mosquito he could stand up against a wind going several thousands of miles an hour.

With that much proved, and carbon dioxide found to be the substance that enables mosquitoes to find someone to bite, the Rutgers investigators set to work in the opposite direction to discover what chemicals would keep the insects away. They tested hundreds of existing chemicals as well as many new ones that were especially created for them in the laboratories of the National Carbon Company, which cooperated in the work.

They have found a chemical combination that repels mosquitoes longer than any other. It is easy to use, harmless to the skin, and easy to remove. The new lotion has been known to keep mosquitoes away for as long as three hours with one application. It is also effective against gnats, black flies, beach flies, sand flies, deer flies, and chiggers.

FEW CENTS EXTRA FOR TIGHT WINDOW FRAMES IS GOOD INVESTMENT

TIGHT JOINT
Contractors call this wide blind stop construction. It cuts air leakage more than half around window frames. Costs just a few cents extra per window. Arrow points to wide blind stop.

LEAKY JOINT

This is the kind of indifferent window frame construction that is used in many new homes. It results in drafts and dirty walls around windows. Arrows point to where cold air leaks in.

Don't overlook the importance of the lowly window frame when you build your new house. It is the one thing that permanently joins your windows with the framework of your house. A window frame properly constructed keeps out dirt and drafts by making a weathertight joint with the wall. A window frame indifferently constructed will allow as much as 174 cubic feet of air per hour to leak into your home, air that is often loaded with dust, to dirty up walls and cause drafts.

Good Construction Costs Little
Wide blind stop construction in window frames has been in use for many years, yet jerry builders will use frames without it in order to cut costs without regard to consequences. This type of construction costs about 30c to 50c more per window opening than ordinary construction and it will quickly pay for itself in heat saved and added comfort.

Window Frames Permanent

Remember window frames are a permanent part of the wall in your new home. To tear them out and replace them is not only a mess but a big expense as well. The easiest way to avoid leaky window frames in your new home is to buy frames that make a weathertight wall joint and that means wide blind stop construction.

POT SHOTS FROM McCAULEY

BY GEO. DARDEN

Farmers have been busy the past weeks building trailers, repairing their old wagons and getting ready to haul in another cotton crop. What we need now is cotton pickers.

Buddy Boyd, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Boyd has gone to Stephenville where he will enter John Tarlton College.

S. C. (Bud) Ferguson of Hamlin was a visitor in McCauley last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Courtney were called to east Texas to be at the bedside of Mr. Courtney's brother who was hurt seriously in a car wreck, last week.

John Harold Steele, son of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Steele underwent a operation in Hamlin Hospital last week, we are glad to report he is doing fine.

Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Andrus and daughter Frankie Jo made a trip to the plains last week.

The Geo. Darden's went to Jayton Thursday, Sept. 5th for the funeral of an aunt, Mrs. J. A. Parks, who died Wednesday, Sept. 4th. Mrs. Parks was the wife of J. A. Parks, owner of the Jayton Hardware & Implement Co.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Miers have returned from an eighteen hundred mile trip through east Texas, Oklahoma and Arkansas, they visited Van Buren Ark., home of Bob Burns and might have possibly seen some of Bob's aunts and uncles.

Mr. King of Abilene has been elected principal of the McCauley High School.

O. M. Henderson was one of the first to start picking cotton around here. He has out one bale and expects to get several more this week. O. M. says he has a good crop.

At last we have located the long lost two little white pigs, but we don't have them in a pen—so that again brings up the old saying that a bird in the hand is worth two in a bush.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Martin were visitors in the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Martin, last Sunday.

There is quite a bit of trading in leases and royalties around McCauley for the past two weeks. A good cotton crop and some oil will fatten a lot of empty purses.

Stanley Jackson, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Jackson has gone to Alpine where he will enter Sul Ross College.

Will Rushing who has been ill for several weeks is improving. Mr. Rushing is seventy-five years young and is always cheerful though he has been unable to get about for sometime.

Francis Davidson will enter Denton Teachers College, Sept. 16. Miss Davidson is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Davidson.

Mrs. Fred Mayberry who is at Ft. Davis, Texas, for treatment is reported to be improving in health.

Fire completely destroyed the wash house of Mrs. Dan Maberry, Monday night; due to a still night and the fast work on the part of a bucket brigade the house was saved.

it is believed that the fire was started by a mouse. The loss was partly covered by insurance.

Deputy Sheriff Crowley and County Attorney Joe Fender visited the Tin Shack last Friday night and caught three of the colored citizens in a hot poker game, result—two of the boys are getting their board for a week at Roby, the other player paid a fine of eighteen dollars. Constable John Wishert and Justice of the Peace Geo. Darden arrested two negroes, Saturday, they were charged with gaming and paid fines in Justice Court.

Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Powers are the proud parents of a baby daughter born Monday afternoon in the Sweetwater Hospital, both mother and daughter doing fine. Mr. Powers is Supt. of the McCauley school.

Reports of Press and Radio on the war in Europe are becoming more and more complicated. It is pitiful to think of the lives that are lost each day, hundreds and thousands of women and children fall victims to bombs dropped from the roaring planes that fly above their homes. If we sit and wait for a volunteer enlistment, instead of having compulsory military training, then we may find our country in a perilous predicament. It seems that some of the big boys in Washington want the poor to fight our wars and find loop holes for the rich. Conscription is the only fair way to raise an army; let the rich fight side by side with the poor and if war comes we will all be in the same boat. It is likely that the fate of Democracy in our day will be decided on this continent. —A Darden-O-Gram.

The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Tom Maberry, Sept. 24. An apron parade will be held. Asst. Club Reporter.

About Cotton Loans Read Carefully, Keep

I wish to call your attention to the attached letter from the Commodity Credit Corporation relating to the method of classing cotton under the 1940 Cotton Loan Program.

Cotton producers in your community no doubt are like those in any other section on the matter of a loan. They want their money as quickly as possible. The method to be used this year in classing loan cotton differs from that used in connection with the 1937 and 1938 loans, and in my opinion will prove much more satisfactory. A final class will be placed on the cotton by a Board of Cotton Examiners of the Agricultural Marketing Service, Department of Agriculture. This method has none of the disadvantages experienced in the classing of 1937 and 1938 loan cotton, but may require slightly more time. It is my opinion that the increased value of a reliable class on the producer's cotton will more than offset any inconvenience which may arise in the two or three days required to handle the cotton properly.

On delivery of cotton to the warehouse for loan, samples will be drawn by the warehouseman and shipped to the nearest central classing office maintained by a board of cotton examiners. The samples will be classed and each bale listed on a special form signed by the board and returned to the producer. Loan values will be based on the class shown on this form.

We trust that you will use every opportunity to inform your neighbor of this procedure and that you will co-operate to the fullest extent in this improved program for classing loan cotton.

Sincerely yours,
I. W. DUGGAN,
Director, Southern Division

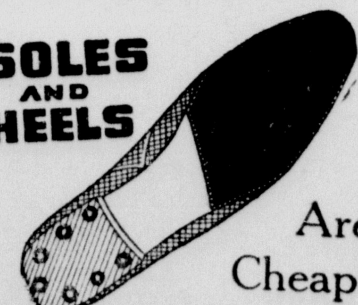

FOUR IMPORTANT FACTS
(1) The cotton will be classed more uniformly and thus inequities among producers will be avoided.

(2) The class placed on cotton by a Board of Cotton Examiners will be final and thus avoid for the producer any expense or inconvenience for reclassing and for making deficiency payments for overclass.

(3) The cost of classing to producers will be only 15c per bale as compared with the usual charge of 25c per bale under other procedures.

(4) The class placed on cotton by a Board of Cotton Examiners of the Agricultural Marketing Service will have a very high degree of uniformity and reliability. The producer should find such information of value in negotiating with buyers for the eventual sale of his equity or cotton.

A "FOUR-ALARM" FOR THE BLUE-GRAY TRUCKS

A KANSAS CITY bridge burst into flames one morning last spring. It twisted and writhed under the terrific heat... then stout steel spans splashed into the Kansas River.

"Voice bridges" went out of service, too. For attached to the bridge were two large telephone cables, containing wires to 1,700 telephones. It was a four-alarm for the telephone repair crews—the men in the blue-gray trucks. While flames still roared near by, the reconstruction work began.

In a fire department rowboat they got a line across the river. Emergency telephones were rigged up at strategic locations.

SOUTHWESTERN BELL

Like good music? Tune in "The Telephone Hour," Monday evenings, N. B. C. Red Network

Then came a driving rain to make the task even harder. All night they worked against great odds. By midnight 60 telephones were working. By breakfast time three-fourths of the silenced telephones could speak. That afternoon telephone service was back to normal.

Meeting—and whipping—emergencies is a part of the telephone man's job.

Your telephone service is backed by skilled, loyal people whose experience in past emergencies better equips them for the emergencies of the future.
